DATE: December 22, 2005

RE: Report of Legal Services for the Indigent Committee

The Legal Services for the Indigent Committee met one time, on November 28, 2005. At this meeting, the Committee decided upon the Fair Share awards to be distributed at the Annual Banquet to attorneys participating in the Pro Bono program at the Association. Additionally, the recipient of this year's Equal Access to Justice Award was chosen. Though the name of the recipient will not be revealed until the Annual Banquet, the person selected has a long history of strong support for the Association's Pro Bono programs, and is an individual who is well known and respected by all members of the Association.

The Committee also discussed future seminars of interest to LLA members participating in the Pro Bono referral programs and members who otherwise are active in providing legal services to those who have difficulty affording lawyers. The Committee considered three or four-hour CLE programs on SSI claims and on bankruptcy. However, it was decided that, for 2006, the Committee would offer to present two programs at LLA's Lunch 'n Learn series, said programs to consist of updates to the Protection from Abuse Act and PFA procedure, and on unemployment compensation practice and procedure.
